RE: NAC REPRESENTATION IN DOCKET 04-37

Dear FCC Commissioners and Staff,

As you know, NATIONAL ANTENNA CONSORTIUM (NAC) is a national group, representing those, including Amateur Radio operators, who own, lease and/or manufacture communications antennas and towers. As you also know, NAC has filed numerous Motions and Comments in FCC Docket 04-37. This proposed rule, concerning the expansion and oversight of Broadband Over Powerline (BPL) operations, became a final rule in Report & Order 04-245, issued on October 28.

Please be apprised that I have recently resigned as NAC's Vice President, Government Relations & Membership Development, in order to pursue a Master of Arts in Asia Pacific Studies (MAPS) degree at the University of San Francisco.

I will continue to provide part-time advocacy and/or ghostwriting services for selected clients, who may include NAC upon occasion. As a general rule, however, the new "contact person" for NAC in this FCC Docket, and in future FCC Dockets, will be Gerald L. Agliata, Executive Director of NAC.

A press release on the leadership transition, which has led to coverage in RADIO WORLD and other publications, has been enclosed with this letter.

I have enjoyed my involvement with the FCC and hope that the pleasure has been mutual. I believe most of you already know Jerry and will enjoy working with him.

Sincerely,

Don Schellhardt
